Part E – Statement of income

You and your spouse or common-law partner must each file a Canadian tax return for the period after you became residents of Canada. If your spouse or common-law partner is a non-resident of Canada during any part of the year, you will have to send Form CTB9, Canada Child Benefit – Statement of Income, for each year or part of a year that they are a non-resident of Canada.

Fill out this part if you or your spouse or common-law partner became a new resident of Canada or returned as a resident of Canada.

Enter all income in Canadian dollars from all sources inside and outside Canada. Do not include income that you or your spouse or common-law partner have reported on a Canadian tax return. Enter "0" if you had no income.

Note

If you are an Indian within the meaning of the Indian Act, do not report the portion of income that is exempt from tax because it is situated on a reserve. For more information, go to cra.gc.ca/aboriginalpeoples, then select "Indians".

Step 1 – Year you became resident of Canada

Enter the year you became a resident of Canada. Enter your income from January 1 of that year to the date you became a resident. If you had a spouse or common-law partner, enter his or her income from January 1 of that year to the date they became a resident.

Do not enter your spouse or common-law partner's income if they did not become a resident of Canada in the year indicated. Instead, you will need to report his or her income for this year on Form CTB9 early in the following year, when it is known.

Year <input type="text"/>	Your income (dollars only): $ <input type="text"/>	Your spouse's or common-law partner's income (dollars only): $ <input type="text"/>
